

Management:

Definition: In simple terms, Management can be described as planning, organizing, staffing, monitoring and controlling.

Example: Construction of Building.

Harold Koontz, “Management is an art of getting things done through and with the people in formally organized groups. It is an art of creating an environment in which people can perform towards attainment of individual and group goals”.

According to F.W. Taylor, “Management is an art of knowing what to do, when to do and see that it is done in the best and cheapest way”. He talked about maximizing the results with minimizing the resources.

Management involves creating an internal environment: - It is the management which puts into use the various factors of production. Therefore, it is the responsibility of management to create such conditions which are conducive to maximum efforts so that people are able to perform their task efficiently and effectively. It includes ensuring availability of raw materials, determination of wages and salaries, formulation of rules & regulations etc.

Therefore, we can say that good management includes both being effective and efficient.

Effective: If the desired goal is achieved by a plan, then the plan is said to be effective.

Efficient: If the desired goal is achieved by a plan, using minimum resources then plan is said to be efficient.

14 Principles of Management

Principle refers to a fundamental truth. They serve as a guide to thought & actions. These principles are based on logic. Therefore, management principles are the statements of fundamental truth based on logic which provides guidelines for managerial decision making and actions. These principles are derived: -

- a. On the basis of observation and analysis i.e. practical experience of managers.
- b. By conducting experimental studies.

There are 14 Principles of Management described by Henri Fayol.

1. Division of Labor

- a. Henri Fayol has stressed on the specialization of jobs.
- b. He recommended that work of all kinds must be divided & subdivided and allotted to various persons according to their expertise in a particular area.
- c. Subdivision of work makes it simpler and results in efficiency.
- d. It also helps the individual in acquiring speed, accuracy in his performance.
- e. Specialization leads to efficiency & economy in spheres of business.

Example: Assembly Line

2. Authority & Responsibility

- a. Authority & responsibility are co-existing.
- b. If authority is given to a person, he should also be made responsible.
- c. In a same way, if anyone is made responsible for any job, he should also have concerned authority.
- d. Authority refers to the right of superiors to get exactness from their sub-ordinates whereas responsibility means obligation for the performance of the job assigned.
- e. There should be a balance between the two i.e. they must go hand in hand.
- f. Authority without responsibility leads to irresponsible behavior whereas responsibility without authority makes the person ineffective.

3. Principle of One Boss

- a. A sub-ordinate should receive orders and be accountable to one and only one boss at a time.
- b. In other words, a sub-ordinate should not receive instructions from more than one person because -
 - It undermines authority
 - Weakens discipline
 - Divides loyalty
 - Creates confusion
 - Delays and chaos
 - Escaping responsibilities

- Duplication of work
- Overlapping of efforts

- c. Therefore, dual sub-ordination should be avoided unless and until it is absolutely essential.
- d. Unity of command provides the enterprise a disciplined, stable & orderly existence.
- e. It creates harmonious relationship between superiors and sub-ordinates.

4. Unity of Direction

- a. Fayol advocates one head one plan which means that there should be one plan for a group of activities having similar objectives.
- b. Related activities should be grouped together. There should be one plan of action for them and they should be under the charge of a particular manager.
- c. According to this principle, efforts of all the members of the organization should be directed towards common goal.
- d. Without unity of direction, unity of action cannot be achieved.
- e. In fact, unity of command is not possible without unity of direction.

Basis	Unity of command	Unity of direction
Meaning	It implies that a sub-ordinate should receive orders & instructions from only one boss.	It means one head, one plan for a group of activities having similar objectives.
Nature	It is related to the functioning of personnel's.	It is related to the functioning of departments, or organization as a whole.
Necessity	It is necessary for fixing responsibility of each subordinates.	It is necessary for sound organization.
Advantage	It avoids conflicts, confusion & chaos.	It avoids duplication of efforts and wastage of resources.
Result	It leads to better superior sub-ordinate relationship.	It leads to smooth running of the enterprise.

Therefore it is obvious that they are different from each other but they are dependent on each other i.e. unity of direction is a pre-requisite for unity of command. But it does not automatically comes from the unity of direction.

5. Equity

- a. Equity means combination of fairness, kindness & justice.
- b. The employees should be treated with kindness & equity if devotion is expected of them.
- c. It implies that managers should be fair and impartial while dealing with the subordinates.
- d. They should give similar treatment to people of similar position.

6. Order

- a. This principle is concerned with proper & systematic arrangement of things and people.
- b. Arrangement of things is called material order and placement of people is called social order.
- c. Material order- There should be safe, appropriate and specific place for every article and every place to be effectively used for specific activity and commodity.
- d. Social order- Selection and appointment of most suitable person on the suitable job. There should be a specific place for every one and everyone should have a specific place so that they can easily be contacted whenever need arises.

7. Discipline

- a. According to Fayol, "Discipline means sincerity, obedience, respect of authority & observance of rules and regulations of the enterprise".
- b. This principle applies that subordinate should respect their superiors and obey their order.
- c. It is an important requisite for smooth running of the enterprise.
- d. Discipline is not only required on path of subordinates but also on the part of management.
- e. Discipline can be enforced if -
 - There are good superiors at all levels.
 - There are clear & fair agreements with workers.
 - Sanctions (punishments) are judiciously applied.

8. Initiative

- a. Workers should be encouraged to take initiative in the work assigned to them.
- b. It means eagerness to initiate actions without being asked to do so.
- c. Fayol advised that management should provide opportunity to its employees to suggest ideas, experiences & new method of work.
- d. It helps in developing an atmosphere of trust and understanding.
- e. People then enjoy working in the organization because it adds to their zeal and energy.
- f. To suggest improvement in formulation & implementation of place.
- g. They can be encouraged with the help of monetary & non-monetary incentives.

9. Fair Remuneration

- a. The quantum and method of remuneration to be paid to the workers should be fair, reasonable, satisfactory & rewarding of the efforts.
- b. As far as possible it should accord satisfaction to both employer and the employees.
- c. Wages should be determined on the basis of cost of living, work assigned, financial position of the business, wage rate prevailing etc.
- d. Logical & appropriate wage rates and methods of their payment reduce tension & differences between workers & management creates harmonious relationship and pleasing atmosphere of work.
- e. Fayol also recommended provision of other benefits such as free education, medical & residential facilities to workers.

10. Stability of Tenure

- a. Fayol emphasized that employees should not be moved frequently from one job position to another i.e. the period of service in a job should be fixed.
- b. Therefore employees should be appointed after keeping in view principles of recruitment & selection but once they are appointed their services should be served.
- c. According to Fayol. "Time is required for an employee to get used to a new work & succeed to doing it well but if he is removed before that he will not be able to render worthwhile services".
- d. As a result, the time, effort and money spent on training the worker will go waste.
- e. Stability of job creates team spirit and a sense of belongingness among workers which ultimately increase the quality as well as quantity of work.

11. Scalar Chain

- a. Fayol defines scalar chain as 'The chain of superiors ranging from the ultimate authority to the lowest'.
- b. Every orders, instructions, messages, requests, explanation etc. has to pass through Scalar chain.
- c. But, for the sake of convenience & urgency, this path can be cut short and this short cut is known as Gang Plank.
- d. A Gang Plank is a temporary arrangement between two different points to facilitate quick & easy communication as explained below:

In the figure given, if D has to communicate with G he will first send the communication upwards with the help of C, B to A and then downwards with the help of E and F to G which will take quite some time and by that time, it may not be worth therefore a gang plank has been developed between the two.

- e. Gang Plank clarifies that management principles are not rigid rather they are very flexible. They can be molded and modified as per the requirements of situations

12. Sub-Ordination of Individual Interest to General Interest

- a. An organization is much bigger than the individual it constitutes therefore interest of the undertaking should prevail in all circumstances.

- b. As far as possible, reconciliation should be achieved between individual and group interests.
- c. But in case of conflict, individual must sacrifice for bigger interests.
- d. In order to achieve this attitude, it is essential that -
 - Employees should be honest & sincere.
 - Proper & regular supervision of work.
 - Reconciliation of mutual differences and clashes by mutual agreement. For example: Football team

13. Espirit De' Corps (can be achieved through unity of command)

- a. It refers to team spirit i.e. harmony in the work groups and mutual understanding among the members.
- b. Spirit De' Corps inspires workers to work harder.
- c. Fayol cautioned the managers against dividing the employees into competing groups because it might damage the moral of the workers and interest of the undertaking in the long run.

14. Centralization & De-Centralization

- a. Centralization means concentration of authority at the top level. In other words, centralization is a situation in which top management retains most of the decision making authority.
- b. Decentralization means disposal of decision making authority to all the levels of the organization. In other words, sharing authority downwards is decentralization.
- c. According to Fayol, "Degree of centralization or decentralization depends on no. of factors like size of business, experience of superiors, dependability & ability of subordinates etc.
- d. Anything which increases the role of subordinate is decentralization & anything which decreases it is centralization.
- e. Fayol suggested that absolute centralization or decentralization is not feasible. An organization should strike to achieve a lot between the two.

Functions of Management

1. Planning

It is the basic function of management. It deals with chalking out a future course of action & deciding in advance the most appropriate course of actions for achievement of pre-determined goals. According to KOONTZ, "Planning is deciding in advance - what to do, when to do & how to do. It bridges the gap from where we are & where we want to be". A plan is a future course of actions.

2. Organizing

It is the process of bringing together physical, financial and human resources and developing productive relationship amongst them for achievement of organizational goals. According to Henry Fayol, "To organize a business is to provide it with everything useful or its functioning i.e. raw material, tools, capital and personnel's". To organize a business involves determining & providing human and non-human resources to the organizational structure.

3. Staffing

The main purpose of staffing is to put right man on right job i.e. square pegs in square holes and round pegs in round holes. According to Kootz & O'Donell, "Managerial function of staffing involves manning the organization structure through proper and effective selection, appraisal & development of personnel to fill the roles designed in the structure". Staffing involves:

- Manpower Planning (estimating man power in terms of searching, choose the person and giving the right place).
- Recruitment, Selection & Placement.
- Training & Development.
- Remuneration.
- Performance Appraisal.
- Promotions & Transfer.

4. Monitoring

It is that part of managerial function which actuates the organizational methods to work efficiently for achievement of organizational purposes.

5. Controlling

It implies measurement of accomplishment against the standards and correction of deviation if any to ensure achievement of organizational goals. The purpose of controlling is to ensure that everything occurs in conformities with the standards. An efficient system of control helps to predict deviations before they actually occur.
